

Together...supporting Cornwall's enterprising women

Do you run a business in Cornwall, or are you thinking of starting one?

- Are you interested in effective networking?
- Do you want to focus on what is important to you and move your idea or business forward?

If you've answered 'yes' to either of these questions, come and join us at Fowey Hall Hotel and be inspired! Business Link, in partnership with the Business Support Network, Step this Way, Network Cornwall and Truro and Penwith College Business Centre is delighted to invite you to this free event.

Why should you attend?

- This event will highlight the opportunities, advice and support to help you start, run or grow your business.
- It's a great opportunity to meet other enterprising women and share ideas and have access to the key business networks in Cornwall.
- You can book a one-to-one advice session with a Business Link Adviser

- Thursday 2nd July 2009, 9.45am - 3.00pm
- Fowey Hall Hotel, Fowey, Cornwall
- Refreshments and lunch provided

RSVP Places are limited – see the booking form for details on how to secure your free place.

Come along and hear our inspirational speakers:

- Sharon Berry, founder of Storybook Dads, Charity of the Year 2007, will share her experience, achievements and success
- Charlotte Chadwick, Cornwall Development Company and School for Social Entrepreneurs on the growth, opportunities and success of social enterprise
- Yvette Coles, Business Link, on how Business Link can provide support and practical advice to help you succeed
- Heather Gorringe, founder of award-winning Wiggly Wiggles, on how she took her rural business to global success
- Carleen Kelemen Director of the Convergence Partnership office and Women in Business champion for Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly
- Mike Kevern, Managing Director of Butterfly, will inspire and motivate you to sell yourself and your business
