Free, informal one-to-one business advice surgeries

If you think that you might want to run your own business, and need individual advice, or if you already have an idea and want to discuss it in more detail, then come along for an informal, one-to-one chat with one of our qualified business advisers.

They'll provide no-obligation, practical advice whether you're thinking about starting or you're already involved in a voluntary or community-based enterprise, or a commercial business. They can give you tips on anything from developing your business ideas to working through the 'credit crunch'.

If you can't make our dates, give Co-active a call on 01752 500888 and chat over the phone.
